

Safeguarding (Child Wellbeing & Protection)

The Calway Centre in partnership with Glasgow Kelvin College will be running a half day workshop in the Calway Centre starting:

Thursday 23rd January 2025
(1pm – 3pm)

This FREE training is open to members of the community, staff, and volunteers who are working with or thinking of working with children and young people, and provides you with the knowledge and skills required to effectively safeguard the children in your care. It explains common types of maltreatment and how to recognise if they are happening, how to respond to a disclosure and how to deal with concerns about a child. A combination of written information, case studies and interactive activities will help you to feel confident in your safeguarding responsibilities.

Free creche spaces available!

To register for this course or to find out more information, please contact:
