

SUMMARY ALLOCATIONS POLICY

This document is available in other formats such as audio tape, CD, Braille and in large print. It can also be made available in other languages on request.

What does this booklet tell me?

This booklet contains a summary of Calvay's Housing Allocation Policy and how it works. It tells you what size of house you are eligible for and how we work out what priority to give your application.

The law states we must provide this summary of our allocation policy. However, we can also give you a full copy of the policy. This provides more details about:

- Our legal responsibilities
- The principles of the policy
- Your rights as someone applying

How can I be sure that my application will be treated fairly in line with the law and the rules of the allocation policy?

In order to make sure that the allocation policy is managed fairly, we have the following measures in place:

- Every application is checked by two staff members
- We make checks to ensure that what you say on your form is accurate
- Every offer of housing we make is checked by a second staff member
- Our computer system records how we make offers of housing
- We employ an external auditor to monitor our practices
- We have an equal opportunities policy (available on request) that prevents discrimination
- All staff who process applications and offer properties are fully trained on all necessary policies and procedures
- There is a complaint procedure

We are regulated by the Scottish Housing Regulator and complaints are managed in accordance with the Scottish Public Sector Ombudsman Complaints Policy.

Who can apply for housing?

Any person who is sixteen years or more may apply to the housing register. This is not, however, an automatic right to receive offers of housing.

We will provide application forms at our office and online. In line with our equality commitments, this form can be made available in different languages and in alternative formats. We may also offer interpreting services. On request, we can assist applicants to complete their application form.

Factors not taken into account for access to housing register

In accordance with legislation, certain factors must be ignored by landlords when assessing applicant's access to the housing register. These factors are:

- Length of time applicants have lived in the area
- Housing debt not owed by applicants, for example, rent arrears owed by a partner
- Housing debt now repaid
- Any non-housing debt such as council tax
- Age of applicants unless under the age of 16
- Applicants income or property, including income or property owned by other household members
- Any rent arrears/tenancy related debt

Whilst these factors do not affect an applicant gaining access to the housing register, there are factors that can affect the status of an application. These include:

- Any rent arrears where the amount is more than one month's rent and or where the applicant has not been maintaining an arrangement for paying the arrears for at least three months
- If an applicant has acted anti-socially within the last three years
- Outstanding Recharges or condition of property

We can suspend applicants for unpaid rent or other outstanding money owed-relating to current or previous tenancies. For instance:

- Unpaid rent and factoring charges
- Outstanding rechargeable repairs. For example, if a tenant has lost their keys and costs have been incurred in changing the locks and not paid the debt
- The cost of cleaning a house if you leave furniture or rubbish behind when you move out
- Legal costs if an applicant has been taken to court

If an applicant owes money for unpaid rent, however, we will only suspend if:

- More than one month's rent is owed and there is no mutually agreed arrangement to repay it; or
- The applicant owes more than a month's rent, a mutually agreed arrangement is in place to pay it, but has not been kept for three months

We can also suspend applicants due to anti-social behaviour. For instance:

- The applicant has been given a final warning for anti-social behaviour in the last six months
- The applicant has been given a “Notice of Proceedings” for antisocial behaviour in the last six months
- The applicant or someone that lives with them has been given an anti-social behaviour order (ASBO) or an interim ASBO (the ASBO must be removed by the Sheriff Court before we can end a suspension)
- The applicant has a Short Scottish Secure Tenancy because of anti-social behaviour
- The applicant has been evicted for anti-social behaviour in the last 3 years
- The applicant has been violent or aggressive towards staff

We can also suspend applications due to other types of breaches of their tenancy agreement. For instance:

- The applicant has been given a “Notice of Proceedings” for breaching tenancy agreement in the last six months (for example, a failure to maintain a garden to an acceptable standard)
- The applicant has been evicted for a breach of a tenancy in the last three years.
- The applicant has failed to adhere to their conditions of tenancy in respect of the property as stated in their tenancy agreement.
- An applicant has deliberately given false or misleading information to gain advantage over other applicants.

An applicant can appeal against a suspension. Applicants may appeal in writing against a decision within 14 working days. If the applicant remains dissatisfied with the decision, they can follow the Association’s Complaints process.

Admission to the housing register

In order to be admitted to the housing list, we ask applicants to complete an application form.

An application form can be obtained by contacting us:

- In person
- By phone
- By post
- Via website

Our target for assessing completed application forms (this includes receiving relevant proofs) and informing the applicant of the outcome is 10 working days from receiving them. Applicants are sent written confirmation of their housing application details, including their award of points.

Applications with insufficient information may be subject to delay. This means that applications cannot be processed until the relevant information is received. Alternatively, applications may be processed but not given full points entitlement until the information is received.

Information and processing applications

We process personal information provided on the housing application form in line with legal requirements. Express consent is granted by the applicant by signing the declaration on the application form to allow exchange of information with other agencies where appropriate and for their application to form part of any future tenancy record.

We may ask for references from any landlord or mortgage lender to confirm housing and tenancy details. We request applicants’ consent to do this on the application form.

We will make enquiries to confirm information provided in the housing application. We may also carry out home visits, phone calls or set up meetings via video call to confirm application details.

Applicants are responsible for advising us of any changes to their housing circumstances. They are advised of this requirement on the application form.

Non-UK Nationals, Asylum Seekers & Refugees

Non UK Nationals are expected to provide all necessary documentation to show they have a right to reside in the UK before an application for housing is accepted. An application for housing can be made but it will be suspended until the correct documentation is provided to satisfy legislative requirements. Migrants have differing rights to social housing according to their immigration status. Whilst we welcome applications from those looking to live, work or study in the UK we will ensure the applicant is not subject to immigration control and has an entitlement to a Scottish Secure Tenancy. These applicants require to demonstrate that they have a right to reside and are habitually resident in the UK.

Asylum Seekers applying for housing with Calvay will have their applications suspended until their refugee status is confirmed by the Home Office. We will accept applications from refugees directly or via the statutory homeless route (Section 5) and these customers are given reasonable preference on our housing list as defined by the Housing (Scotland) Act 2014.

Offers

We make offers based on the applicant's housing needs and preferences after confirming details on their application form. This is good practice as it aims to reduce inappropriate offers.

Reasonable offers are those that reflect an applicant's stated choice. For example, we will not offer applicants house types that they have expressly stated they will not consider.

Nonetheless, we provide advice and information on realistic preferences, as demand generally exceeds supply.

If an applicant refuses two offers that reflect their stated choice, their housing application may be suspended or cancelled. The applicant will be contacted prior to suspension or cancellation to discuss their housing options.

Tenancies

We provide applicants who accept an offer of housing a Scottish Secure Tenancy in accordance with our legal obligations. In a limited number of instances, we may offer applicants a Short Scottish Secure tenancy. This has limited security of tenure.

Examples of grounds for a short Scottish Secure Tenancy agreement include:

- An applicant has been evicted for anti-social behaviour within the last three years
- A tenant (or a member of their family) is subject to an anti-social behaviour order

Overcrowding rules

Demand for larger houses often exceeds supply. On occasion, this makes it necessary to consider applicants for smaller houses than specified in the table on page 3. It may also be necessary to consider applicants for smaller properties due to the changes introduced in April 2012 under The Welfare Reform Act ("bedroom tax").

We do not let houses to families if this would create statutory overcrowding, as this would constitute an offence. Any decisions of this nature will be decided by Calvay Housing Association.

Under-occupation

If required, we may also allow under-occupation of larger accommodation. For example, this may be necessary if an applicant can show a need for such accommodation due to medical needs.

Internal applicants affected by under-occupation will be prioritised for offers of housing. Any decisions of this nature will be decided by the Association.

Our groups and placing applications

We have established a total of 8 groups. These groups cover the main needs covered in housing law and good practice guidance. These groups are listed in order of priority.

Our groups are as follows:

- Group 1 Homeless
- Group 2 Urgent Needs/Below Tolerable Standard
- Group 3 Unsatisfactory Housing / Medical
- Group 4 Overcrowded
- Group 5 Under-occupation
- Group 6 General needs
- Group 7 Social and Support
- Group 8 Aspirational

Group 2, 4 and 5 have sub groups.

We place applications into a group using the following method. Applicants are placed in the highest priority group reflecting their housing need.

GROUP 1

Homeless Applicant's will be placed in Group 1 they will be queued for house type "No Preference" unless there is a specific medical requirement which will need to be evidenced. Confirmation of homelessness will be confirmed at the time of offer.

They will not be awarded any additional points except medical points, if relevant i.e. they will not be awarded overcrowding, sharing amenities points etc.

GROUP 2

Anyone who is placed in Group 2 will be queued for house type "No Preference" unless there is a specific medical requirement which will need to be evidenced.

They will not be awarded any additional points except medical points, if relevant i.e. they will not be awarded overcrowding, sharing amenities points etc.

GROUP 3

If an applicant is not in Group 1 or 2 and is living in unsatisfactory housing, their application is placed in the unsatisfactory housing group (Group 3).

GROUP 4

If an applicant is living in overcrowded conditions and not in Group 1, 2 or 3, their application is placed in the overcrowded group (Group 4). In this group, we have two separate sub-groups: overcrowding for waiting list applicants and transfer applicants.

GROUP 5

If an applicant is under-occupying a property, and not in Groups 1 to 4, their application is placed in the Under-Occupation Group (Group 5).

Note: Owner Occupiers are not awarded under-occupation points.

GROUPS 6, 7 & 8

All other applicants are placed in the general needs group (Group 6), social and support group (Group 7) or aspirational group (Group 8).

Those placed in group 8 will be Calvay Housing Association tenants that have no housing 'need' element (in that their current home meets your housing needs) in their application and, as such, do not award 'housing points'. Instead, we add the person to the group, and who has been on the list the longest. If more than one applicant has the same application date, then the longest length of tenancy will take priority. This category will be reviewed every six months.
